

Q1 2025 Camps

February

Time to think about...summer camp (for real)

A summer splash.

I've learned my lesson about summer — it comes up before you know it! So even though we're in winter, I've got June on my mind. I want to be sure my kids are fully engaged, in fun, educational activities. Summer programs fill up quickly, and I want to get the spots that are great for my kids. With summer figured out, our future is bright.

Here's what's included:

- Steve & Kate's Camp
- Camps in the Bright Horizons network
- Age-appropriate options for school-age children
- Coverage for school breaks, holidays, and summer vacations
